Welcomed the Logistics Experts of the Future for the First Time at Heka, Its Newest Warehouse

Hosted Its Experts TLS Logistics' newest warehouse, Heka, played host to 200 young students from home and abroad. The young people visited Heka, one of the largest warehouses in Turkey, as part of the International Logistics Training Camp organized by students of Yildiz Technical University.

The Quality and Efficiency Club of Yildiz Technical University and Turkey's most active student clubs organized the International Logistics Training Camp for the ninth time this year. As part of the event, which was sponsored and supported by TLS Logistics, the young people visited Heka, one of the largest warehouses in Turkey, on December 6, 2013. The young people's visit also marks the launch of Heka. The young people were Heka's first guests. As part of the International Logistics Training Camp held from December 2 to 7, 2013, 200 students from all over Turkey and abroad visited Heka, TLS Logistics' newest warehouse, on the day reserved for the technical tour. During the warehouse tour in Şekerpınar, which has a sophisticated technological infrastructure, the students could learn about the future industry in which they will work.
