TLS Logistics Opens an Office at Atatürk Airport

TLS Logistics International Services department is carrying out a new structuring process. As part of this process, which is being carried out in parallel with the company's rapid growth, an office has been opened at Atatürk Airport. Through this office, business is conducted in the vicinity of the cargo terminals.

TLS Logistics, which offers competitive logistics solutions to its customers, opened its own office at Ataturk Airport. The TLS Logistics International Services division has been undergoing a restructuring process for some time. TLS Logistics decided to open an office at the airport to manage its activities near the cargo terminals as part of this process, which was prompted by its rapid growth. TLS Logistics has experienced rapid growth since its establishment.

The company has embarked on a comprehensive restructuring process and opened logistics centers at its head office to maintain this growth trajectory. In this way, it will be possible to increase the quality of services offered to customers, complete transactions faster, and find solutions to various problems that may arise in the shortest possible time with a proactive approach.

TLS Logistics has increased the volume of air transport from imports and exports in the first quarter of 2013 to 350 tons per month.

The goal is to increase the monthly air shipment volume to 550 tons by the end of 2013. TLS Logistics has achieved this volume with shipments to Russia, China, the Middle East, South America, and West Africa. In addition to these figures, the company loads 150 tons per month on the Shenzhen - London, Shanghai - Andorra, and New York - Almaty routes.
